Do you want to be a part of a not for profit school with an ethos dedicated to supporting students with special educational needs? Do you want to be a part of a team of caring, hardworking professionals that have a student centered approach, ensuring we are consistently providing the best provision? Working for The Village not only offers you the opportunity to be an integral part in one of the leading special needs providers in South East Asia, but also to be part of a community.

The Village International Education Centre is a not-for-profit special needs centre that provides education provision for children from the ages of 3-16+ with a variety of special educational needs including; autism, dyslexia, down syndrome, ADHD and emotional and behavioural difficulties.

We are a community that celebrates difference and emphasizes achievements while fostering growth. We have a love for, and dedication to, serving those students whose needs have been neglected, minimized, or ignored.

An exciting opportunity has arisen for skilled and dedicated special needs practitioners to join our talented, supportive team at our Bangkok centre - providing a safe, nurturing and stimulating place of learning for all our students.

Does this sound like you...?

- Skilled in managing pupils with SEN
- Passionate advocate and agent of change
- Someone who shares our values
- Child Centred
- Creative, flexible, resilient and energetic
- Strong team player
- Able to work closely with parents and other agencies
- Excellent interpersonal and reflective skills
- Excited by the idea of working in a small, nurturing and supportive environment

Knowledge or experience in the following areas would be advantageous but not necessary:

- Have a working knowledge of the P'scales assessment
- Knowledge of the UK National Curriculum
- Knowledge of GED
- Knowledge of the adult basic skills curriculum (ASDAN)

As an inclusive school we are happy to receive applications from people with backgrounds in education, learning support, care or residential facilities or people who can show experience and passion towards young people with special education needs. NQT are also encouraged to apply.
